

SPECIFICATION SHEET

Product: 150mm Conforming Bandage

Product Overview

The 150mm conforming bandage is a premium-quality, wide, stretchable bandage designed to provide secure and gentle compression for large wound dressings and injury management. Its broad width is ideal for covering large body areas such as the chest, abdomen, thighs, or shoulders. The bandage easily conforms to body contours, providing comfort and support without restricting movement.

Intended Use

Used in first aid, emergency care, and clinical settings to secure bulky or large dressings, support sprains or strains, and provide general injury care. Suitable for single-use applications in both professional and home environments.
